Works on Relief Message

President Truman Preparing It to Seek Funds For Flood Areas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—(P)—President Truman is preparing a special message to Congress asking additional relief and rehabilitation funds for flood stricken areas of the mid-west.

Congressional leaders said after a conference at the White House today that Mr. Truman had read to them parts of the still incomplete message.

The conference lasted an hour and 20 minutes. House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) said it was devoted exclusively to the "flood disaster in the midwest."

The president is preparing to send a message to Congress suggesting a course to help those people get out of the mud and out of the flood," Rayburn added.

None of the conferees said how much Mr. Truman would ask in the way of money or what he proposes precisely.

Had $25,000,000 Fund
Congress already has voted the president a $25,000,000 fund to cope with the immediate emergency caused by the floods in Missouri, Kansas, and other mid-western states. Much of this money already has been allocated.

The president also has asked $21,800,000 for special flood control and rivers projects in addition to the money he requested in his annual budget submitted to Congress last January.

The conferees did not know when the new message would go to Congress, but said it would not be today.

Congress members sitting in on today's conference, in addition to the "big four" who customarily meet with Mr. Truman on Mondays, were Senator Hennings (D-Mo.), Rep. Bolling (D-Mo.), Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) of the senate appropriations committee, and Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the house appropriations committee.

Hennings and Bolling have proposed a plan under which the federal government would bear a large part of the cost of rebuilding damaged homes and factories in the flood area. Bolling called it a "Marshall plan for the United States."

Others at the White House conference were Charles E. Wilson, defense mobilization director, and his chief flood rehabilitation aide, Col. A. E. Howe, Raymond M. Foley, Housing Administrator, who has been directing most of the emergency relief program, and Budget Director Frederick J. Lawton.

Rayburn said Mr. Truman's message "it not quite ready" but that he read quite a lot of it to the conferees and urged "prompt action" once the message reaches Congress.

Rayburn said the flood "is one of the worst disasters" of its kind ever suffered in this country and that he thought Congress would give the message prompt consideration.

Sedalia Boy in Plane Contest

Sixteen invitations sent out on August 16th to one of model aviation's greatest events, the Plymouth Motor Corporation's Fifth International Model Plane contest included the name of Valgene Hayworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hayworth, 2300 East Broadway.

Valgene, who is 14, has been in many model plane contests in the state and nation and has usually come out with a high standing.

He recently competed in a regional contest at Kansas City which enabled him to participate in this contest which will be held at Detroit.

In 1949 Valgene attended a similar international tournament in which he placed fourth in stunt flying.

The events which he will enter this year are: Stunt flying, which he explained as being precision aerobatics; carrier deck landing; "A" speed and "B" speed, the latter pertaining to the type of motor.

Each of the planes which he will enter in the contest Valgene built himself.

He and his parents will leave about 5:00 a. m. Tuesday for Detroit where he will enter the contest, which lasts from August 22 to August 27.

He is sponsored by the Plymouth dealers of Sedalia including the Bryan Motor Co., Queen City Motor Co. and the Askw Motor Co.

At the International he will vie with 500 others for a total of 104 trophies and a share in the $4,725 U. S. Savings Bonds, which have been posted as prize money.

Four Lose Lives In Two Collisions

FARMINGTON, Mo., Aug. 20—(P)—Two head-on collisions with a 50-mile stretch of U. S. highway 61 killed a total of four persons and injured eight Saturday.

Paul Seale of Tilden, Ill., and Benjamin F. Stacey, of the St. Louis suburb of Berkeley City, were killed when the cars in which they were riding crashed five miles south of here.

Five others were hurt. Frederick Hahn, and his brother-in-law, Frank Hack, about 65, were killed when their car and another machine collided a mile north of Imperial. Three others were injured in this accident.

Politics Entry Into the RFC Is Charged

Reached Into the National Level Two Senators Say

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—(P)—Two Republican senators said today in a controversial report that the Senate's RFC investigation showed President Truman and William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic national committee chairman, "have transferred the RFC from politics to the national level."

"Scurrilous" and politically motivated, retorted Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), referring to the Republican report. He is chairman of the banking subcommittee which investigated the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

But Fulbright wrote, and the other Democrats on the investigating group joined in, a majority report which itself renewed the charges made by the committee last February that the big government lending agency had fallen prey to "an influence ring with White House contacts."

The new report from the Democrats, adopted by the full banking committee and sent along to the Senate, said those charges were "fully substantiated in a new series of public hearings held after Mr. Truman had called the preliminary report asinine."

It added new comments about what it called an "accepted practice" among borrowers of seeking entry to the RFC by means of a Democratic national committee introduction. And it said RFC's former board of directors, now superseded by Stuart Symington as one-man administrator, "tacitly acknowledged its responsibility to external influence."

Minority Report
The sharper and more personal language, by Senators Capehart (R-Ind.) and Bricker (R-Ohio), was in a bulk minority report which also was submitted to the Senate.

Fulbright called their statement "scurrilous" in a postscript statement. He said it was so partisan that he regretted it had to be "printed at public expense."

Another Senator, Benton (D-Conn.), a member of the banking committee but not of the RFC subcommittee, said the Capehart-Bricker document "abounds with false innuendoes."

Altogether the exchange amounted to a signal that the political shooting over RFC and its lending practices, going on for years, will be heard right on through the 1952 campaign and probably longer.

The Republican minority report called Mr. Truman and Boyle "graduates of one of the most corrupt political machines in the history of any state," a reference to the old Vandergast set-up centered in Kansas City, Mo., with tie-ups in St. Louis.

Mainly the majority report dwelt on a demand for tightening of the laws governing RFC. It proposed a study of the need for the huge lending agency's continued existence. While the minority report flatly called Congress to put the RFC out of business at once.

The Republicans demanded that White House aide Donald S. Dawson, named in the February report as an RFC influence ring member, be fired as a man "incapable of honest duty as a public servant."

Diary Shows He Met Chambers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—(P)—Oliver Edmund Clubb, suspended state department official, today told the House un-American activities committee his personal diary shows he met Whittaker Chambers at the New Masses office in 1932.

He turned over to the committee several volumes of his personal notes, made during his 23 years as a foreign service officer.

The Clubb diary entry, made in July 1932, reads: "The most interesting meeting thus far was that with the New Masses. This so called revolutionary organ is a horrible rag."

"But Agnes had given me a letter of introduction to Walt Carson so I went to see him."

New Crisis is Threatened in Truce Talks

No Progress is Evident From the Secret Sessions

By Robert B. Tuckman

MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 20—(P)—Allied and Communist subcommittee met briefly in Kaesong today as a new crisis threatened efforts to stop the Korean war.

General headquarters in Tokyo said "partisan forces of either side" may be trying to wreck armistice negotiations.

The statement was in reply to Red charges that U. N. forces ambushed a Red patrol inside Kaesong's five-mile neutral zone Sunday. A Chinese patrol leader was killed and a Chinese soldier seriously injured.

North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, senior Communist delegate at the Kaesong talks, said the Chinese patrol was "carrying out policing duties" in conformity with the neutrality agreement.

The subcommittees met for only 70 minutes Monday. It was their shortest session since they took over the main truce delegations Friday.

Meet Again Tuesday

The subcommittees met for only 70 minutes Monday. It was their shortest session since they took over the main truce delegations Friday.

The subcommittees are trying to hammer out a compromise agreement on the question of a cease-fire buffer zone. The main delegations argued this point for 10 days and found themselves completely deadlocked.

The Communists want the buffer zone to straddle the 38th parallel, old political dividing line between north and south Korea. The United Nations command wants it generally along present battle lines, most of which are north of 38.

Both sides have indicated a willingness to compromise. United Nations staff officers at Kaesong today refused to let allied newsmen sit on the veranda of the conference building, or stand near the two entrances.

A pooled dispatch from Kaesong said the order came from "higher headquarters." Presumably the order was issued to prevent any leaks on what went on inside the former tea room.

Sixteen Leave For Induction

Leave For Kansas City to Begin Military Service

Sixteen inductees left from the Missouri Pacific Bus station today for induction into the United States Army. The 16 consist of the August quota for the local draft board.

They are: Richard C. Brown, 2011 South Engineer; Robert C. South, Stewart, 2 Green Ridge; Everett L. Brown, Green Ridge; Keith K. Anderson, Route 1, Green Ridge; Paul L. Calvert, Green Ridge; Melvin D. Sands, 501 East Harvey; Gary C. Tuggle, 1318 S. Engineer; Charles L. Estes, 900 1612 East Fourth; Billy E. Jesse, Terry Hotel; William T. Darrah, 521 West Fourth; Lavern Fricker, Route 2, Sweet Springs; Hugo A. Reusch, Route 1, Mora; Clarence W. Davis, 1202 West Henry, (transferred to this board from Dubuque, Iowa); Clifford H. Dawson, Houstonia; and Robert M. Overstreet, 1206 South Carr.

Sally Rand is Rotary Speaker

Sally Rand was the speaker today at the meeting of the Sedalia Rotary Club at the hotel.

Miss Rand told of her early life in Missouri, and some of her theatrical experiences. She then told of observations of the correcting of delinquency that had been accomplished by Rotary. Of the Missouri State Fair, where she is praised to the agriculture and educational achievements presented by her fellow Missourians.

Miss Rand was introduced by Dick Snow.

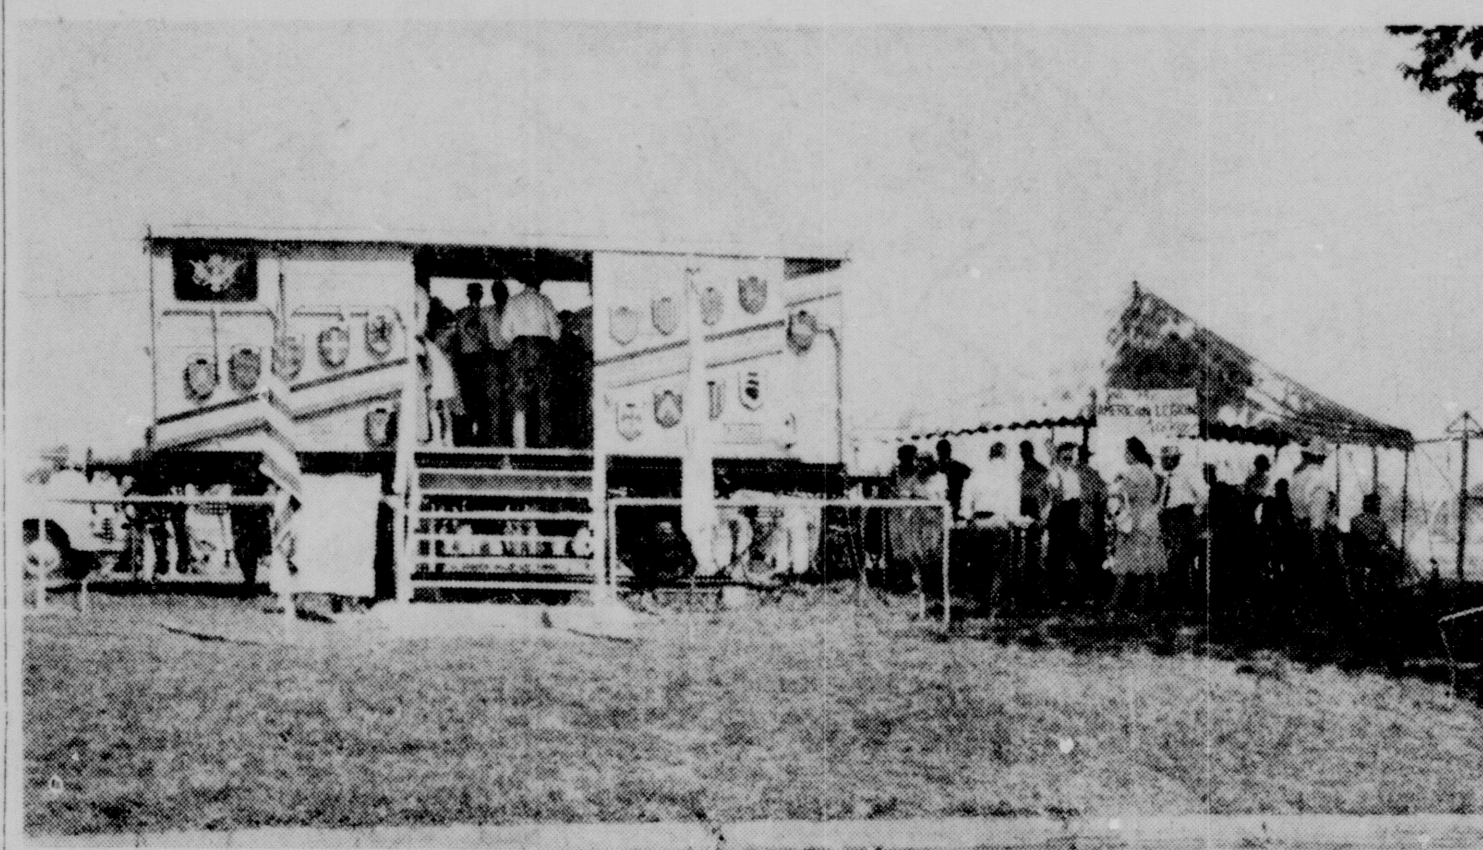

F. Emory Bowman, president, presided over the meeting and invocation was by E. A. Edwards.

Fred Brink led the singing. Visitors introduced by Z. Lyle Brown were: J. L. McHugh, Kansas City, guest of E. W. Thompson; R. A. Farley, Des Moines, Iowa; Glen Snider, Lockett, Okla.; Archie Logan, Keokuk, Iowa; Cy Kalkman, St. Cloud, Minn.; L. A. Parish, Jr., Sherman, Tex.; Larry Griffith, Port Allegany, Pa.; A. F. Johnson, Port Allegany, Pa.; Bob Browning, De Sota.

Those visiting other clubs the past week were: Rev. Glen Lindley, Princeton, Ill.; Leonard and Guy Peabody, Marshall; Dave Miller, Macon and Leo Eickhoff, St. Louis.

An announcement was made of the greatest dramatic event ever to be staged, "The Passion Play" which will be offered to Sedalia and vicinity on November 12, 13, 14, and 15 at the Liberty theatre by the Rotary Club. Next Monday will be a joint meeting of members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs at the Bethwell hotel. It will be at 7:00 p. m.

The car has been redecorated for the fair by members of the 40 and 8 and the American Legion.

Hurricane in Jamaica Cost Fully 109 Lives

Intensity as it Moves Over the Southwest Gulf

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 20—(P)—A shrunken hurricane ripped across the Yucatan peninsula today and into the southern Gulf of Mexico 30 miles northwest of Merida.

It continued on a west-northwesterly course with maximum winds of 75 miles per hour, mini-hurricane force.

However, Forecaster W. R. Stevens said the hurricane "will increase in size and intensity over the southwest Gulf of Mexico this afternoon and tonight."

The storm, which during its peak power killed at least 109 persons and destroyed property valued at $56,000,000 on the British island of Jamaica last Friday and Saturday, was pointed in the general direction of the mouth of the Rio Grande river separating Mexico and Texas.

It moved into the gulf from the Yucatan peninsula some 650 miles almost due south of New Orleans after giving Yucatan residents a night of panic. Reports from the area were meager because of scanty communications.

Contact is Lost
Radio contact with Cozumel Island, 200 miles east of Merida, the capital of Yucatan state, were lost at 4 p. m. (EST) yesterday. Officials in Mexico City said they supposed the radio tower was carried away.

Officials at Mexico City said they could not learn what damage, if any, was done.

Isla Mujeres, a small island south of Cozumel, and other points in the storm's path reported last night the inhabitants took to the streets in panic.

Merida felt winds of 100 miles per hour. It was in the center of the storm's path, away from the vicious northern half of the storm which slammed Jamaica with a righthand punch. Kingston received the heaviest blow with Port Royal, south of the city, reporting four deaths, as winds reached 130 miles per hour.

Eight persons died at May Pen, near the former U. S. base, Verulam field.

Authorities at Kingston were still trying to round up 70 prisoners who escaped when the storm pelted a wall of the island's penitentiary.

The island's poor house and mental hospital also were hard hit.

The government reported several persons were killed there when the roofs of those buildings collapsed.

Ninety per cent of the rich banana crop in some areas was blown down. The coconut crop, however, suffered less damage.

'Carnival Atmosphere' at the 'People's Funeral' of Reds

MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 20—(P)—Chinese and North Korean Reds held a "people's funeral" today for the Chinese Communist patrol leader who they say was killed in an Allied violation of the Kaesong neutrality zone Sunday.

Nine Allied correspondents and an American army officer, Capt. Henry J. McAllister of Hamburg, N. Y., attended.

A pooled dispatch said the services had "an almost carnival atmosphere."

Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Red envoy to the Kaesong cease-fire talks, and the four other members of his delegation were prominent at the funeral, held in a battered Kaesong schoolhouse.

The walls were decorated with large floral wreaths and white silk banners. One banner, in English, read: "For a people's soldier who died in the cause of peace."

Three Big Money Bills to White House

Needed to Run Government For Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—(P)—Senate passage today sent to the White House three of the big money bills needed to run the government for the fiscal year which began July 1.

They were the $2,512,004,000 labor-federal security bill, the $802,988,000 agriculture bill, and the $511,865,336 interior department bill.

The three measures were the fourth, fifth and sixth money bills to go to President Truman's desk out of 11 which must be passed.

Congress last week before its log jam over the appropriations measures by agreeing on a formula to cut back personnel in many government offices by as much as 10 per cent.

The House adopted a formula in most money bills which would have forbidden the agencies to fill more than one vacancy in four in the current fiscal year. The formula, proposed by Rep. Jensen (R-Iowa), aimed at a 20 per cent job reduction by this afternoon method.

The Senate substituted a plan of Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) for (Please turn to Page 4, Column 6)

Sally to Still Flutter Fans

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 20—(P)—The shimmering fans of Sally Rand are still stirring up trouble.

Gov. Forrest Smith reported today he has received about 35 letters protesting appearance of the fan dancer at the Sedalia State Fair.

He said one woman from Holt county, a widow, wrote that she had planned to take her three children to the fair. But when she found out the attractions included Sally Rand, she changed her mind.

The governor said he didn't plan to interfere with Sally's show.

Mrs. Nannie Knight Champion Cook

Mrs. Nannie Knight, 82, of Ulrich, was winner of the special Missouri State Fair championship "1951 Cooks of Yesterday."

Mrs. Knight is the aunt of Mrs. C. L. Carter, 700 South Beacon and spends her winters in Sedalia with Mr. and Mrs. Carter. She is not only an expert cook but is also a flower grower as well and hardly waits in the spring to get back to her home in Ulrich to work in her flowers and start her vegetable garden.

Is Robbed by A Hitch-hiker

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20—(P)—What started out as a week-end drive to visit relatives turned out to be an anxious 10-hour tour of Missouri's back roads for Junior Lee Douglas.

The 29-year-old plasterer told police yesterday he left his home at Lemay, Mo., Saturday to visit relatives in Columbia, Mo. At a gasoline station he picked up a hitch-hiker who wanted a lift to Mehlville.

Then, Douglas told police, the hitch-hiker drew a gun and the wild ride began. Douglas said the hitch-hiker described himself as an escaped convict from the west coast.

The ride followed back roads and finally ended when the hitch-hiker left Douglas in his automobile near Columbia on U. S. highway 63. Douglas told police the man took $45 from him before leaving.

Claimant as Jesse James Buried

GRANDBURY, Tex., Aug. 20—(P)—The body of J. Frank Dalton, who claimed he was Jesse James, was laid to rest here yesterday by a few friends and relatives.

By his own count, Dalton was 107 years old. He died last Wednesday night.

Among the relatives attended were a great-grandson, Lee Hawk of Texas City; a daughter, Mrs. Harriett Jane Redding of Decatur, Ill.; and three cousins, Mmes. Wilton Burgin and Mary Spaulgh, both of Louisville, Ky., and Ola Everhard of Austin, Tex.

Better Than Usual Attendance at Radio and TV Appreciation Day

Today is Radio and TV Appreciation Day at the Missouri State Fair. A better than average Monday crowd was on hand and the feature event was Tom Moore and his "Ladies Fair" program which was held in the grandstand.

Visiting Radio and TV officials were guests at a luncheon held in the dining room of the Administration Building given by W. E. "Bill" Preston, secretary-manager of the fair in honor of Tom Moore, one of the outstanding stars of TV.

Randall Jesse of WDAF-TV station, Kansas City, a former Sedalian, and Milton Henlein, owner and operator of KDRO Sedalia, were host to the Radio and TV visitors.

This afternoon the famous Grand Circuit harness horse races opened for a five day program on the mile track, one of the finest in the United States. The races will be held through Friday.

Tonight the State Fair horse show will be presented for the second time in front of the grandstand, and Tuesday night will move into the redecorated coliseum.

Tuesday is Legislator's and St. Louis Day at the fair. State Senator C. R. "Ted" Hawkins, Brumley, and State Representative Dan Dean Doty, Sedalia, will act as hosts to the visiting State Senators and Representatives.

A St. Louis delegation will arrive in Sedalia by special train about noon.

Tuesday night the Cavalcade of Stars Stage Show and Water carnival will be given in front of the grandstand. This show will be held nightly through Saturday.

Attendance 83,710 Sunday

History was made at the Missouri State Fair on Sunday when an all-time record was set for the day in attendance. The final figure was 83,710. Also the first time in the fair history, it was necessary to close the outside gates to automobile traffic, this being done in the middle of the afternoon. The attendance for 1950 was 71,629.

Parking officials parked cars on the old White City field, the infield of the race track, parking lots west of the main entrance, the southwest parking lot and the northwest lot. Cars lined every street on the grounds and made it impossible for more to be parked.

Fair goers had their cars parked along the State Fair Blvd., from the main entrance to highway 50, along the 16th Street Road, from highway 65 far past the Pittsburgh-Corning Co., and on fields across from the grounds.

It was Veterans and Armed Service Day at the fair Sunday and it was evident the crowd was well represented by military and former military men. At the Registration tent along side the 40 and 8 box car on the grounds a large registration was had. However, those in charge stated not one-fourth of the Vets and Military signed their names to the register.

There was a military air over the grounds with drum and bugle corps from American Legion Posts at Jefferson City, Joplin, and the Negro unit from Kansas City. The All-State American Legion Championship band from Kansas City, also played. Veterans of both World War I and II along with many of the thousands of others.

Another real military touch was added when four women Marines flanked by two Marine Sergeants presented the colors of the United States on the stage in front of the grandstand while the National Anthem was played.

During the afternoon program of the American Legion, prior to the racing events, Charles Bacon, State Commander of the American (Please turn to Page 4, Column 6)

Berlin, City of Vivid Dramatic Contrast, During Youth Rally

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

(Ed. Note — Drew Pearson is on another tour of Europe, studying conditions there during this period of world tension and crisis. Herewith is another of his caustic dispatches from Europe.)

BERLIN, Aug. 20 — I have just spent an evening behind the Iron Curtain. It's not hard to do here in Berlin where no guards patrol the line between the Russian and American sectors and where, if you flash a White House press card and look reasonably important, you can attend even the most exclusive of the Communist youth shows.

Berlin, tonight is a city of vivid dramatic contrast — miles of bustling and flags everywhere, flags of every nation but particularly and ironically the flags of peace. Sandwiched in between almost every national flag is the old and white emblem of peace. Standing out against the gaunt bomb-gutted ruins of Berlin, they made a genuine appeal to the tired population which never wants to see war again.

There were other contrasts. A Czech youth orchestra in immaculate blue and white uniforms played before the pillars of Berlin's bombed-out opera house. They played well and sang well. At one side stood shiny new Czech buses made in the Skoda munitions works. One thousand of these buses brought the Czech youth delegation to this year's rally and they now stood in contrast to the bomb-wrecked weary pillars of the old opera house.

Across from the kaiser's once-ornate palace which the Russians tore down and removed piece by piece, a great platform stood in front of the bomb-battered museum. The inside was an empty shell but outside a Russian ballet, a girl in Georgian costume, and Finnish folk dancers all performed. It was Russia's youth exhibition and you had to admit it was good. Lighting, acoustics and staging were all perfect; the music excellent and the dancing superb. I couldn't tell what the girl in the Georgian costume said when she sang a ballad dedicated to Stalin and I don't think many of the German Communists could, either. But they liked her voice and applauded just the same.

Above the museum, the stone horse given to Kaiser Wilhelm by Czar Alexander II peered down at this modern-day Communist rally while, on the crowd's edge, a group of young Communists peered eagerly at the convertible Ford Mercury in which I had been driven across the Iron Curtain. On their shirts was written "Activist," meaning their job was to whip up and activate enthusiasm among other party members. But they seemed much more enthusiastic about the modern motor production of the West than in Communism.

Reds' Youth Rally No Flop

To read the headlines in American newspapers you got the impression that the Berlin youth rally was a flop. It wasn't. No rally which brings 2,000,000 youngsters together from all parts of the world is a flop and it's no use kidding ourselves.

The state department, with a meager budget, did a miraculous job of attracting a quarter of a million German youths into the western sector, giving them food, literature and a sight of the vastly better living standards on our side of the Iron Curtain. But when the rally was only half over, orders came to close up certain youth depots. The food was costing $12 per day at one center and the state department's budget was exhausted. Congressmen Taber of New York, Clevenger of Ohio and other economists had pinched too many pennies and a great opportunity was thus snuffed out.

However, three-quarters of a million other youngsters never entered West Berlin. They braved the straw spread out in school rooms for them at night, put up with the poor Communist food and attended ballyhoo programs, all for the sake of Communism. And a score of 75 per cent against 25 per cent means that eventually democracy loses out to Communism.

"Ami, Go Home!"

If you arrived early enough and flashed a White House press card, a U. S. military pass or even a District of Columbia police pass, an American could get into the most popular and packed performance of all — the North Korean. Seeing the Korean show gave some idea of the propaganda barrage this youth congress was subjected to. The highlight of their performance was a dance opera in which a Korean mother, her child killed by Americans, is the heroine. The scene which really brought down the house was that in which she throws three grenades into an American camp. Three Americans then tear her clothes half off and take turns beating her while she takes from her blouse the flag of the Peoples' Republic. Then, just as the Americans tie her to a tree preparing to shoot her, a shot rings out and Korean guerrillas come to her rescue. The heroine then shoots an American officer at point-blank range.

At this point, the audience goes wild; there is 10 minutes of applause; the Korean actors get curtain call after curtain call and Russian ladies rush up to embrace the embarrassed but happy Korean orchestra leader. The audience then leaves, chanting "Ami, go home!" — the slogan of derision for Americans thrown at us from the Adriatic to the Baltic. This is a sample of the propaganda drilled in on the youths at the rally and there's no use in kidding ourselves about its effect.

Selling Ideas is Important

I sat in one youth center in West Berlin talking to three boys from Saxony — one a carpenter's apprentice, one a locksmith's apprentice and the third out of work. They sat in the George C. Marshall building, in one end of which was a soup kitchen while in the center a toy edition of the Santa Fe railway's "Chief" glided under bridges and over mountains in a huge electric-train exhibit.

Just outside stood "The European Trains" — a beautifully built combination of the friendship and freedom trains showing the importance of uniting Europe. A long line of supposedly Communist youngsters from East Berlin stood waiting to pass through, but the boys I talked to had already seen this impressive train.

As we talked of Communism, which they didn't like — I asked what they thought of a United States of Europe.

"That's what we've got to have," said the carpenter's apprentice, banging his fist on the table. "We've got to be united, just as that train says. That's the way

They Won't Hold Water

Highway Garden is a Beauty; A Restful Place at the Fair

Perhaps the most densely attended and packed feature at the fair, besides the grandstand performances, is the State Highway Gardens.

Sunday it was estimated by T. W. Sayers of Jefferson City, who is in charge of the Gardens that about 1,000 people visit this attraction every thirty minutes. This would mean that Sunday, up until 6:00 p. m., over 20,000 people would have visited in the Highway Gardens.

Mr. Sayers, who has been with to lick Communism and the way to lick war."

That remark to me pointed out the chief mistake we are making in our battle against communism. In Berlin, Moscow was selling an idea — we were handing out soup and bread. In the rest of Europe, Moscow has been selling an idea — we've been handing out Marshall plan money to build buildings, railroads and roads. These are important. But sometimes people will fight harder for an idea than for full stomachs.

What we could do very easily and where we have been missing the boat is to sell both an idea and bread — the idea of uniting Europe and preventing war. We have hinted at this from time to time but until we sell that constructive idea and sell it hard the Communists may be able to continue outselling us with their phony idea on a 75-to-25 ratio.

the highway department for over 31 years said that the benches and tables in the Gardens would accommodate about 75 lunchers, during the lunch period when people picnic in the Gardens.

Located in the center of the attraction is a huge tent in which chairs have been placed for fair goers to rest. Also located in the tent is an organ, which is constantly being played by two of Sedalia's organists. And on the opposite side from the organ is a large water fountain which is kept by the highway department. This fountain, which is built in rock, uses over a ton of ice each day to cool the city water as it runs through coils in the ice.

As a special service this year the department is giving away road maps of Missouri and surrounding territory. On the extreme north side of the Gardens is located a replica of an old Missouri homestead with a mule, chickens and effective landscaping. While standing on a specially constructed ramp built to give a good view of the scene many remarks can be heard from those around you.

Sunday afternoon one elderly lady remarked, "Look at that scythe cradle. Isn't it funny we just came from a tractor exhibit and now I see what my father used years ago to harvest." A young man obviously from out-state remarked, "Now that's what I expected to see all over the state. I thought there would be mules and hillbillies all over."

And still another, who saw a survey in a barn, remarked to her little granddaughter, "See dear, that's what your granddaddy used to come after me in to go out on a date."

Mr. Sayers said that some people liked the different parts of the Gardens better than others and that many people just stood and looked into the lily pond. But whatever the person likes for entertainment and restfulness it is in the highway department's State Fair Gardens.

Philatelic Display of Much Interest

John Pope of St. Louis Re-elected As President

One of the outstanding stamp exhibits to be seen in the mid-western states this year is now on display in the philatelic building at the Missouri State Fair. Included are 250 frames containing six album pages each and they come from the collections of collectors in ten states.

What is undoubtedly the most interesting collection of "music on stamps" — and the second most valuable such collection anywhere — is included in the exhibit. It is a part of the vast collection of C. Turner Nearing of Decatur, Ill., the judge this year of the State Fair's show, and includes stamps with pictures of composers on pages that also carry the life story of the individual musical.

There are many other featured collections including those of postmarks of many St. Louis local postoffices of past years, envelopes bearing stamps cancelled on the first day the stamps were used, stamps from many foreign countries, those with pictures of certain animals, and several panes of pre-canceled. This latter class is for stamps with the names of towns printed on them. They are cancelled before they are sold to users and are used only on certain mail under special privileges granted those to whom they are sold.

Arranged Collections

Mrs. Don Silsby of Springfield, superintendent of the show, was assisted this year by Mrs. Howard May of Sedalia. They received the

by Julius Long

COPR. 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE bullpen door opened with a painful grating sound, for its boilerplate taxed its unlubricated hinges. Sheriff Em Souders filled the doorway. He beckoned with a chubby index finger.

"This is it, Jimmer. The jury's come in with a verdict."

Now that it had happened, it wasn't so bad. I'd dreamed over and over that they had found me guilty, that they were leading me to the electric chair, that I was sitting in it waiting for someone to throw the switch. That type of dream had been a bad one, but it had been worse dreaming the opposite, that I had been freed, for the let-down when I woke up was terrible.

I stared down at the five greasy cards in my hand. The five other card players had forgotten theirs. The ham in me compelled me to look at mine steadily and say:

"We'll finish the hand, boys."

I was terrific.

The five inmates of the Queen County jail regarded me with new respect. We played out the hand with exaggerated deliberation. I could imagine each of them telling it for the rest of his life.

"Yes, I'll never forget it," he would say. "I'll never forget that afternoon in the old Queen County jail. We were playin' five-card straight draw, and settin' in the game was Jimmer Malloy, on trial for the murder of Charlie Berman, the thief that had stole his big resort at Queen Lake. The jury'd been out since the night before. Right in the middle of a hand the sheriff opens up the bullpen door and says the jury's bring in a verdict."

"Jimmer Malloy, he never bats an eye. He just says casual-like: 'We'll finish this here hand, boys.' So we played out the hand with Jimmer as cool as a cucumber, not knowin' whether the jury'd give him the chair or let him go free!"

SO we played out the hand. I dropped 60 cents because I was too excited to realize that a pair of greasy fours wouldn't win. The hand played I stepped over the bolted-down bench and away from the table. I went back to my cell and got a sports jacket I didn't need, for it was a hot summer day outside. As I returned, Hal Hoyer, who'd been in my class at high school and who was the only other local man in the jail, extended his hand.

"Good luck, Jimmer. Believe it or not, I wish I could change places with you. You'll walk out of that courtroom a free man, but I'm caught for life. They'll turn me loose a minute after midnight tonight, but my alimony-grubbing ex will have me back before the week's over."

The others joined Hal in their good wishes. I thanked them and joined the sheriff. He had never bothered to put cuffs on me, and he didn't now. The sunlight blinded me as we reached the street.

"What do you think, Sheriff?" The huge sheriff shook his head. "I don't know, Jimmer. You can't ever tell about a jury."

I questioned him no further. He continued on to the county courthouse, used the back stairway to the second-floor courtroom. The room was packed when we entered. The judge's bench, however, was vacant.

I walked to the defense table. My lawyer Gene Sawyer glanced back at me and smiled wryly. Gene was almost as big as the sheriff. At 40 he was prematurely gray.

collections, placed them in panes and arranged the display. Many thousands of dollars have been invested in the stamps which are being shown. John Pope of St. Louis was re-

I wondered how lucky I would be if I did walk out—a free man, but a man believed by everyone to be a killer.

The local Houdini of the criminal courts, he took his cases so seriously that at the close of each he was near collapse. My case, had been an exception to the rule. Gene had refused to worry about it; at times I had been considerably irritated by his manner.

"Take it easy," he'd told me time and again. "No Queen County jury will ever convict a native son for killing a Cleveland gangster for stealing his property!"

"But I didn't kill him, Gene!" "Sure!" Gene would wink. There was no point in arguing with him. My own lawyer believed me guilty, and that was that.

"Heard anything?" I whispered, as I sat down behind him at the defense table. Gene held up his hands and turned them over. "Don't worry. You'll walk out of here."

I said nothing. I wondered how lucky I would be if I did walk out—a free man, but a man believed by everyone to be a killer.

Judge Tudor emerged from his chambers. His black robe trailed behind him as he walked to the bench. He seated himself, did not glance at me as he nodded to a deputy sheriff. The deputy went to the jury room to bring the jury.

I looked at Sam Carter, the prosecuting attorney, seated at the adjacent table. Sam was not looking my way.

SAM CARTER, like everybody else, believed that I had shot

"Who had a better motive?" he had argued to the jury. "Jimmer Malloy, through his disgraceful operation of his resort at Queen Lake had lost his lease of the state land on which it was located! Charlie Berman acquired the lease. The two men were locked in a bitter lawsuit over the right to the property when Berman was brutally shot down in his lake-front home."

"Jimmer Malloy was there that night. He admits he was there. He says that Berman phoned him to come over and to cover alone. And he went. We know that he went to the home of his bitter enemy."

"And why did he carry a gun if he did not mean to use it? Jimmer Malloy has admitted that it was his gun found on the floor beside his enemy's body. He has offered no evidence in rebuttal of the testimony of experts that it was his gun that fired four bullets into the body of his enemy. Four bullets! Only a man moved by compelling hatred would have continued to fire a gun into the body of a man already murdered!"

Carter had paused for the dramatic effect.

"And now how does Jimmer Malloy explain his presence there at Charlie Berman's cottage? That improbable telephone call from Berman himself? Why, he admits that he and Berman had not spoken since Berman came to Queen Lake! He wouldn't admit that he was in Berman's cottage that night but for the fact that he was seen by an impeccable witness as he fled from the scene of his crime!"

It had been a strong argument, all right. And it was true that I would never have admitted being inside Charlie Berman's cottage after I had found his murdered body but for the fact that I had almost wrecked Julie Bradford's canary yellow convertible as I had come out of Berman's drive.

MY own convertible though a conservative blue, had been easily identifiable, the night of Charlie Berman's murder, and I had slowed down enough for the angry jury to flash a spotlight upon me. I never dreamed of disputing her word when afterwards she told the sheriff that I had left Berman's place at about 11 o'clock that night.

After that everything seemed to add up against me. I had noticed the gun, of course, a .38, but there are thousands of guns like it. It had never occurred to me that the weapon was mine—otherwise I would have picked it up. Sam Carter argued that I had never thought it could be traced to me. The fact was that the gun was unregistered, and the sheriff connected me with it only by digging slugs out of a sand trap I had set up on my own place in Orchard Island. I liked guns, and I had built a target rack in front of the sand. The slugs the sheriff had found were ideal for a ballistics check.

So there I was, hooked on the myriad barbs of circumstantial evidence. I had heard of cases of mistaken identity, of other miscarriages of justice discovered long after an innocent man had suffered for a crime, but these had seemed so rare that it was just out of the question that such a thing should ever happen to me. And now it had happened.

Hatred Is the Highlight of Reds' 'Peace' Demonstration in Berlin

These pictures show pretty well how queerly Communists go about bringing peace and understanding between the Western world and the peoples of the Iron Curtain countries. They were taken during the recent eight-hour parade in Berlin of East Germany's Free German Youth—Communist youth organization that later invaded West Berlin 14,000 strong and staged riots in which 432 persons were injured, 413 of them Communist "peace" delegates. (Above, the "peace" theme is symbolized by a flag bearing a huge white dove, escorted by a German boy and girl. But the dove's peaceful import was pretty well canceled out by scores of other floats and banners ridiculing and caricaturing the Western nations. (Above, right), is typical — a poster showing Uncle Sam driving a chariot drawn by two donkeys with caricatured faces of West German Chancellor Kurt Schumacher and Conrad Adenauer, German Socialist leader, chained together by U. S. dollars. Phony-ness of the "peace" theme was further demonstrated by a reported million marchers who shrieked defiance of the U. S. and its Allies. (At right) a highly glamorized portrait of Stalin is carried along by young Communists chanting their hatred of the Western world and their devotion to Soviet communism. ## State Fair Awards

Archeological Awards and Exhibits

Thousands of 1951 Missouri State Fair goers visited the archeological and antique exhibits located on the south end of the Fair grounds.

Outstanding in the display was the replica of a thirty-three pound axe sent by the Missouri Resources Museum which competed with another slightly smaller Indian axe, sent by Dr. Robert Nuckles, Slater, Mo. Both originally came from Clark County, Tomahawks were also on display. Made of chert or flint, the Indian tomahawk is different from the stone axe often called "toma hawk."

Many fine pipes, banner stones, discoids, knives, drills and many other Indian relics were shown along with pioneer antiques, many of which have been donated to the Missouri State Fair. One case of pottery was loaned by the Mis-

Record Output of Goods Reported

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(P)—A record $326,000,000-a-year pace in the country's total output of goods and services for the second quarter of this year was reported yesterday by the Commerce Department.

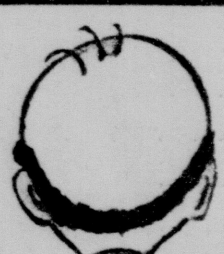

This reflected a nearly 20 per cent increase in the first 12 months of the Korean war—as measured in dollar volume. Some of the gain, however, resulted from higher prices.

A $7,000,000 increase during the April-May-June quarter "stemmed wholly from the gathering momentum of the national defense program," the department said.

Even 'Monkey' Business All About Grounds

John Fiorella, 852 Webster, Chicago, is one person that puts up with a lot of "monkey" business and gets paid for it. The monkey business that we are talking about is a 3½ year old trained ring tail monkey that is in partnership with Fiorella and one of the outstanding features on the fair grounds at the Missouri State Fair this week.

While John plays the organ "Jo" goes through a series of different tricks for the spectators. Some of the tricks consist of putting on her glasses, ringing a bell, putting her hands on the back of her head, playing ball, looking at herself in the mirror, and smoking a pipe.

But as John says, "The best trick that she does is collecting the money and putting it in her pocket."

John came to America from Italy in 1913 and got into the monkey business right away. He has been in the business off and on now for almost 40 years. During this time he has served in the army in 1918 and worked as a patrolman for the Navy in Chicago for 5½ years. He also has a wife, three boys and two girls at home.

John bought "Jo" about a year and a half ago for $75 from a man in Texas. The monkey was wild and John spent two months training her the many tricks that she knows. However, "Jo" was well worth the money because together sometimes make as much as $12 a day. John says that the children love her and the grownups are crazy about her. In other words she has a wonderful personality.

"Jo" has performed at children's parties, fairs, parks, and the streets of Chicago. But the largest crowd that this 3½ pound monkey, who usually makes her appearance in a red coat and pants, has ever played before is the 300 persons that witnessed the show at Dallas, Tex. He thinks that the reason for the popularity is the very gentle way that she treats the kids.

John thinks that the monkey grinding business is a rare one. There are only two other men besides him in the business and he has the last organ that was made. He said that the organ he now has is like a ford... it will run until it falls apart and then if it does break down he will get a radio. However, he thinks that it will last a long time.

As can be expected John thinks a lot of his trained monkey. She eats anything that he does and they are both especially fond of fried chicken. John says that he likes the monkey business and thinks that he will stay with it the rest of his life.

Acrobat Slightly Hurt in Fall

Eddie Cacchini, a member of an aerial acrobatic troupe, which is playing before the grandstand at the State Fair this year, fell 30 feet about 4:00 p.m. Sunday, while practicing stunts during the races in front of the grandstand.

It was reported that Cacchini's head struck an iron object which was jutting from the ground leaving a five inch laceration across the top of his scalp.

He was taken to the fair hospital where he received emergency treatment. It was reported that he would not appear in the next performance of the show.

Busy Session By Police Court

Judge Jerry Trotter assessed a total of $181 in fines in a busy session at the police court Monday morning.

Roy Phillips was fined $100 for driving while intoxicated. George Nold was fined $25.00 for careless driving.

John Kearny received a $5.00 fine for making a left hand turn on Ohio avenue.

John White was fined $2.00 for blocking a sidewalk.

J. L. Wood was fined $5.00 for running a red light.

Four individuals were fined $10.00 each on a charge of being intoxicated.

Four overtime parkers forfeited $1.00 bonds.

Judge Trotter dismissed the following who were charged with careless driving: James Harness, Don Siron and M. S. Shaw.

Five accidents occurred in the heavy traffic of Sunday. Four resulted in minor damages while the fifth smash-up was the most serious.

Clint Rand, Jasper, Mo., driving a Chevrolet coach and Walter M. Shipp, 2103 South Limit driving a 1940 Pontiac, collided at 10th and Limit. The front end of the car was badly damaged and the right front of the Shipp's car was damaged. Mrs. Clint was injured in the collision and taken to the Bothwell hospital for treatment. There it was found that she had received two cracked ribs.

She paid no attention and finished her job.

Chinese and North Korean civilians and soldiers snapped pictures of the Allied correspondents "every time we took a step," the press dispatches reported.

The room was bare except for a table in the center, draped with a white cloth and covered with slogans in Chinese.

A floral display was in a corner of the room. Nam Il, drawing on a cigarette, stood near the flowers. His face was expressionless.

North Korean Gen. Chang Pyong San, dressed in red striped trousers, stood near him.

Across the room was Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang, fresh from the latest subcommittee session with U. N. armistice delegates Gen. Henry I. Hodges and Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke. With Fang was the other Chinese delegate, Lt. Gen. Tung Hua.

The body of the soldier was not in the room.

Suddenly two rows of Chinese and North Korean soldiers, all unarmed, marched in at a trotting pace. They halted, stood at attention and faced toward the white draped table where Tung Hua stood.

Strains of music from an accordion drifted in from a hallway. A choir of young women sang a Korean dirge.

Tung Hua began speaking and all men in the audience removed their caps. The Chinese general spoke rapidly. He declared that the dead soldier, Yao Ching-shan, died as the result of a violation of the neutrality of Kaesong, even as the Chinese and North Koreans worked sincerely for an end to the war.

The correspondents left before the service was over, at Captain McAllister's insistence, the pooled dispatch said.

Fertilizer Plant Is Damaged
EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Aug. 20. (AP)—Fire damaged a section of a big fertilizer plant in nearby Monsanto yesterday, with the loss estimated at from $100,000 to $300,000.

Four thousand tons of phosphate fertilizer is stored in the big plant of Darling and Co., and some of it was damaged by water. Three big overhead cranes and 125,000 paper bags for packaging the fertilizer were in the section of the plant hit by the fire.

A shop foreman said the fire apparently was started when a spark from an acetylene torch fell among the paper bags. Pipes used to carry ammonia used in the manufacture of the fertilizer exploded. Three storage tanks of ammonia were protected by firemen.

Executives at the plant said the extent of the loss hasn't been determined but that it will run "at least $100,000." Fire Chief G. M. Fallon of East St. Louis estimated the damage at between $250,000 and $300,000.

Kem Says Foreign Aid Will Not Buy Friends
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Sen. James P. Kem says foreign aid won't buy friends for the United States.

"You can't buy friendship," the Missouri Republican told a picnic of the United Singers yesterday. "You can't establish peace by acting as a handout state."

Kem charged the nation is permitting flood waters to wash away midwestern farms while at the same time it is engaged in water projects abroad.

Frank Ervin Back to Race His Fine Stable

Noted Driver Has Remarkable Record In Race Events
(By Charlie Hinkle Official Announcer for the Grand Circuit Races.)

The pride of Sedalia, Frank Ervin, all-time great in the field of harness racing, has returned home to race his championship stable over the local mile track during the Grand Circuit meeting that started Monday.

Few people in Sedalia and Missouri probably realize the outstanding achievements made by Frank in his chosen field of endeavor. His career began many years ago at the age of five when his father Frank Ervin, Sr., began to teach him the art of driving the trotting horse.

Frank's father was active in the sport from 1890 until 1928 and was considered one of the top trainer-drivers of his day. Frank took an immediate interest in the sport and except four years has been following in his father's footsteps ever since his early childhood.

His first chance to drive in an actual race came at the age of 16 at Chareston, where his father had two horses returned in a $1,000 stake event and after much persuasion he agreed to let the lad have the mount on a trotter called Black Diamond. Frank proved his judgement was sound by winning the race and then went on to win three more races and wound up the season undefeated.

Four years later, in 1924, Frank started his own stable for a man named Wilson in the Indian territory in Oklahoma. Three years later he was injured seriously and had to give up the sport for three years. During this interim he tried his luck at operating a filling station and then at being a brakeman on the railroad. However, the thrill and love of driving the Standardbred was too much, so in 1941 he returned to the sport actively in California. His success was immediate as he developed the top money-winning horse of the year, in High Volo, and his stable won more money and stakes than any other on the coast. High Volo was undefeated in ten starts that year and took a record of 2:03 on the mile track and 2:05 on a half mile track.

Since that year Frank has elevated himself to one of the all-time greats in the sport and his achievements read like a "Who's Who" of trotting. He has developed and given two-minute records to five horses including: Adios, 1:37 1/2; Scotland's Comet, 2:00; The Colonel's Lady, 2:00; Good Time, 1:58 4/5; and Sampson Hanover, 1:59 3/5. The latter will be seen in action Tuesday afternoon and Frank brought him here undefeated in eight starts this year. However, the competition will be keen at Sedalia and Sampson Hanover will have to be at his best to win his ninth straight.

Wednesday afternoon home-town race followers will get to see the biggest money-winning pace of all time when Frank parades his all-time champion, Good Time, in front of the grandstand at the band strikes up the familiar, "Missouri Waltz," and Missourians from everywhere pay tribute to their own champion, Frank Ervin of Sedalia.

The visit here this week marks Mr. Candler's first appearance at the Missouri State Fair.

which now is 47 per cent.

Williams said estimates of the revenue to be gained from the tax on undistributed earnings ranged from $50,000,000 up to $300,000,000.

George told reporters the committee was hampered in its work this morning because only seven of the 13 members were present.

He previously had called on the committee to get down to brass tacks. He fixed a Sept. 1 deadline for turning the measure over to the Sen. tax.

Hope To Top Off Big Sum
Most senators hope to lop one or two billion dollars off the House increases, even though President Truman asked for a $10,000,000,000 boost.

George said no one knows now just how much of a tax increase his committee would recommend. "We are not trying to approach it from a five, six or seven billion dollar basis," he said.

Instead, he said, the Senate committee will consider how much it wants to raise individual income taxes. The House upped them about $3,000,000,000 on a full year basis by providing a flat 12 1/2 per cent boost over present amounts paid.

Then senators will turn to corporation taxes, which the House raised nearly $3,000,000,000 annually by lifting normal, surtax and excess profits rates.

Finally the committee will consider wide changes in the excise or sales taxes and the so-called "loophole plugging" provisions.

"If we can get all the committing to stay on the job we might complete all these discussions this week," George said.

"Then it will take three or four days for the staff to revise legislation and complete a report before the bill can go on to the Senate."

Democratic leader McFarland of Arizona has promised immediate consideration on the Senate floor. The tax measure is one of the big obstacles in the way of his plans for a congressional recess starting about Oct. 1.

Passed Bogus Bills in 8 States

KANSAS CITY Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Secret Service today revealed that five men arrested last week on charges of counterfeiting had passed bogus $20 bills in eight states in the midwest and south-west, from a headquarters at Little Rock, Ark.

Jackson N. Krill, special agent in charge of the Kansas City office, said three of the men are being held at Topeka, Kas., one at Little Rock, Ark., and the fifth at Colorado City, Tex.

Held at Topeka are Alvin R. Houch, 24; Charles W. Bailey, 23, and Bud Fuller, 25, all of Abilene, is being held at Colorado City, and Jerry Carley, 23, is awaiting court action at Little Rock, Krill added.

The group had its headquarters at Little Rock, Krill said, where the bills were turned out in a printing shop, unknown to the owner.

The agent said Carley, a native of Little Rock, returned at night to the shop where he formerly was employed, entering through a window and printing the bills on plates he made at another printing establishment.

Houch, Bailey and Fuller were arrested Aug. 13 at Abilene, Krill said. Fuller had $1,300 in counterfeit notes in his possession.

Huckeba, a taxicab driver, left Abilene by bus and traveled to Lincoln, Neb., Colorado Springs and Pueblo, Colo., and finally into Texas where he was arrested. Carley was arrested at his home at Little Rock.

Krill said the bills first were observed in Memphis, Tenn., and others were passed in Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas.

Coca Cola King At State Fair
Walter T. Candler, "The Coca Cola king from Decatur, Ga., is on hand at the Missouri State Fair for the Grand Circuit harness racing program. The Georgia financier will watch his good 2-year-old, the trotter Duke of Lullwater, and the pacer Silent Waters, race in rich stakes this week.

Candler's father organized what is presently known as the Coca Cola Bottling Company long before the turn of the century. His son has been active in the business for many years and owns much of the company's stock.

Johnny Simpson, 31-year-old Chester, S. C. reinsman, who has the biggest harness racing stable in the country, is training Candler's two Grand Circuit horses.

Duke of Lullwater is presently ranked as the leading 2-year-old of the season and a top prospect for next year's $100,000 Hambletonian.

In eight starts to date this season, Duke of Lullwater has won six and has been second twice. His most recent victory was scored at the Illinois State Fair last week where he won the $10,000 Greyhound Stake in straight heats. He will race here on Wednesday in the American National Stake for 2-year-old trotters, an $18,000 event.

Silent Waters, while not as prominent in the summaries as Duke of Lullwater, is a very fast filly herself. She was 3-3 in the two heats of the $19,000 Little Pat Stake in Illinois last week. She will race here Thursday in the $13,000 2-year-old pacing division of the American National.

The visit here this week marks Mr. Candler's first appearance at the Missouri State Fair.

Holland No Contender For Luptow

Luptow Wins Feature Race With Ease While Holland Places Fifth

Frankie Luptow, Tampa, Fla., won top honors in the big car races at the Missouri State Fair Sunday taking the opening race of two and a half miles and then he coasted to an easy victory in the feature race of seven and a half miles, defeating in both events Bill Holland, Reading, Pa., an Indianapolis "500" winner.

A near tragedy occurred in the first race when Luptow "crawled" up the back part of the racer driven by Al Kearns, Lima, Ohio, in the first lap of the opening race. Kearns pulled away and Luptow slowed his car and they pulled apart. Luptow, however, did not damage his machine and went on to win the race while Kearns' car was damaged and he had to withdraw his car from the day's event.

More than 20,000 persons crowded into the grandstand, bleachers and took standing room in the walkways in front of both. The new bleachers, built this year has a seating capacity of 4,500, which is 3,000 more than the old bleachers held.

The big cars will race again at the fair on Saturday afternoon, but the events will be held on the mile oval instead of the half-mile track which was used Sunday.

Race results:
First race (2 1/2 miles)—Frankie Luptow, Tampa, Fla., first; Phil Mocco, St. Louis, second; Art Dischinger, 3109 Charlotte, Kansas City, third. Time 2:31.48.

Second race (2 1/2 miles)—Herschell Wagner, St. Joseph, first; Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, Ind., second; Roy Prosser, Los Angeles, third. Time 2:21.61.

Third race (2 1/2 miles)—Keith Saylor, city alderman of Macomb, Ill., first; Fritz Tegmeier, Elgin, Ill., second; Frank Wiser, Brook, Indiana, third. Time 2:48.27.

Fourth race (2 1/2 miles)—Lee Drollinger, Mt. Vernon, Ill., first; Earl Green, Aurora, Ill., second; Wayne Selsar, Kansas City, third. Time 2:35.50.

Fifth race (3 mile consolation)—Bill Holland, Reading, Pa., first; Ken Rubright, Linden, Ill., second; Bob Slater, Kansas City, third. Time 2:51.41.

Sixth race (feature event 7 1/2 miles)—Frankie Luptow, first; Bobby Grim, second; Herschell Wagner, third; Phil Mocco, fourth; Bill Holland, fifth; Roy Prosser, sixth; Ken Rubright, seventh. Time 7:14.9.

Brookfield Wins Opener

BROOKFIELD, Mo., Aug. 20.—(P)—The Brookfield Bombers blanked the Moberly Miners 4-0 last night in a fog-shrouded opening game of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson baseball league playoff.

The game was called with two out in the top of the sixth. Brookfield 210 10-4 4 1 Moberly 000 00-0 2 5

Duckworth and Stewart; Iverson and Summers.

The second game in the three-of-five series will be played here tonight. The teams move to Moberly for the third game tomorrow night.

Brookfield won the northern division title and Moberly the southern division. The winner of the playoff will meet the Kansas City Ban Johnson titlist for the state championship.

Lead of Dodgers Diminished in Defeat by Boston

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is this going to be the calamitous 1942 campaign all over again for the skidding Brooklyn Dodgers?

Just a week ago, the Dodgers were riding high and fancy free, launching their way to the pennant with a 13 1/2 game bulge over the runnerup New York Giants.

Following yesterday's 13-4 pasting in Boston, the Brooks lead is now a "mere" eight games over the rejuvenated Giants. That means that the Giants, who whipped Philadelphia, 5-4, for their ninth straight, have made up five and one-half games in one week.

Meanwhile the race in the American League continues at fever edge.

Cleveland's Indians regained undisputed possession of first place by splitting a pair with the White Sox in Chicago while Philadelphia's A's were burying the New York Yankees, 15-1. The Indians won the opener, 4-0, and lost the nightcap, 7-6, to move a half game in front of the defending champions.

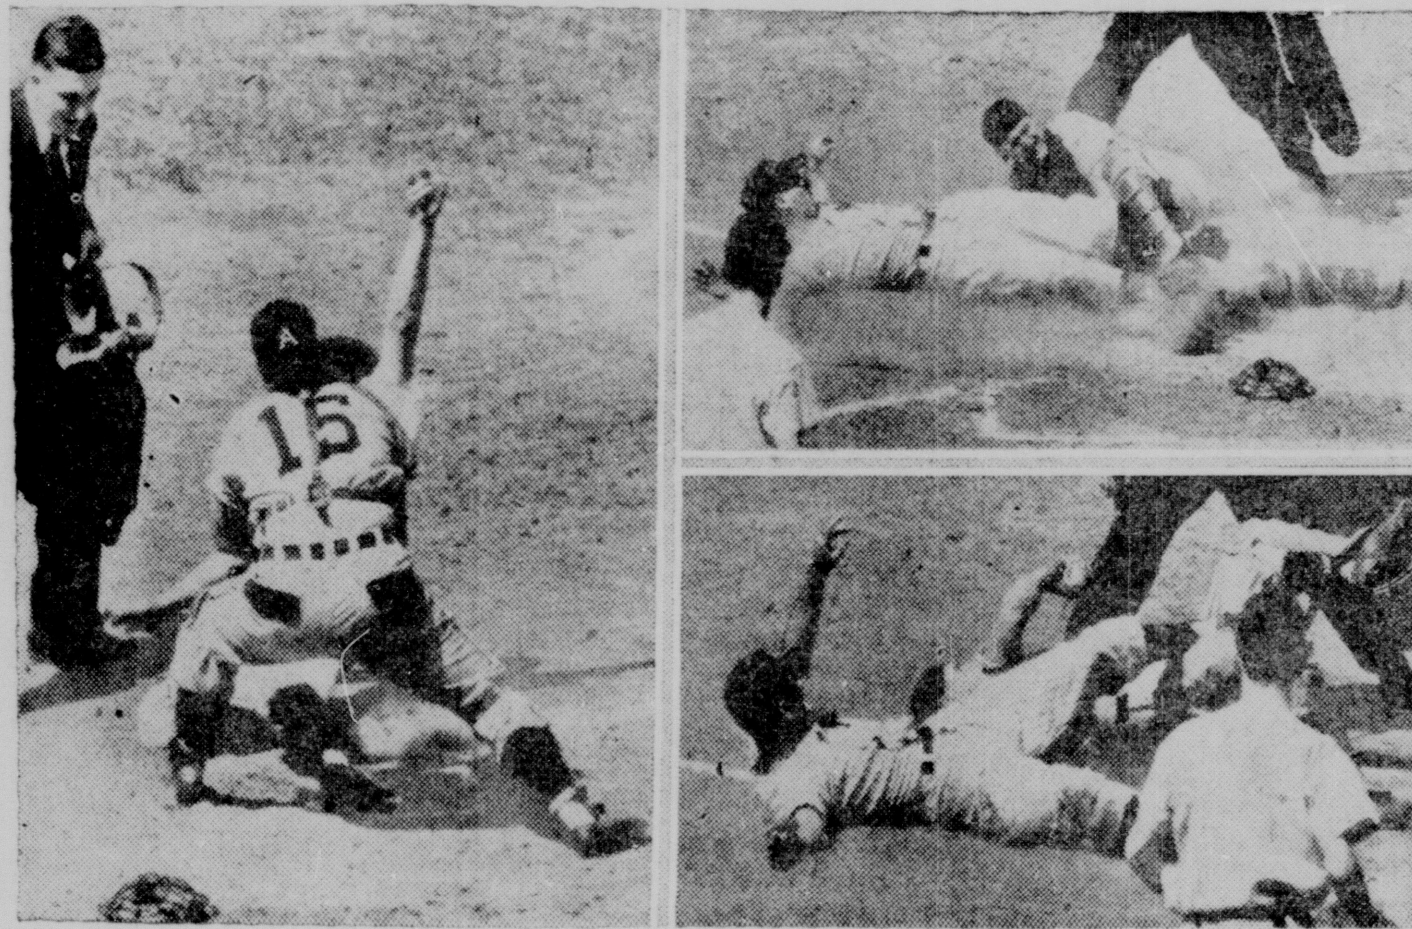

Boston's bounce-back Red Sox whipped Washington, 8-3, and climbed to within 3 1/2 games of the Indians. Fifth-place Detroit swept a pair from St. Louis' cellar-dwelling Browns, 5-2 and 6-2. The St. Louis Cardinals vaulted over the Phils into third place, winning two from Cincinnati, 5-4 and 5-1. Pittsburgh's Pirates took two from the Chicago Cubs, 4-2 and 5-4.

A nine-run seventh—the biggest single inning scoring spree against the Yankees this season—helped Morrie Martin knock the Yankees out of a first place tie. Dave Philley collected five hits in five in five times at bat and Eddie Joost scored four runs.

Camera Records Catcher Casualty

Here are three phases of a play in which Philadelphia A's catcher Joe Tipton suffered a leg injury when New York shortstop Gerry Coleman slid into the plate in the third inning of a game at Yankee Stadium in New York Aug. 18. Coleman was called out on the play by Umpire Jim Duffy. Tipton was carried from the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital for X-rays which showed no broken bones. The Yankees won, 5-1. ## Notes On Balanced Farming

Merle Vaughan
Terraces were being built last week on the farm operated by Milt and Bill Zinn, on Highway 50, just west of Smithton. About 35 acres are being terraced at this time. An additional 35 may be worked on later this fall. Arnold Fischer, local terracing contractor is doing the work.

B-F-N
I staked a pond recently on the farm Ralph Carrel is purchasing 11 miles west of Sedalia. Some nice soybeans were seen on this farm and on the Dennis Raabe farm just east of Springfield.

B-F-N
David Bouldin and his mother are planning to build several terrace outlets on the family farm south of Hughesville.

B-F-N
The concrete feeding floor poured at Charles Romig's last week is 20x33 feet. It was poured four inches thick with a shallow footing on the edges and took 11 yards of ready-mix concrete.

Many folks figure that such a feeding floor will pay for itself in one year in feed saved and convenience. Mr. Romig said the mud was mighty deep each spring where he put the feeding floor and he was looking forward to its use next winter and spring.

About 10 to 15 square feet of floor is needed per hog and 15 to 30 feet for cattle. On that basis Mr. Romig has room for 50 to 60 head of hogs. The floor is at the end of his granary and he plans to blow his ground feed right into a self feeder on the feeding floor.

It is important that such a floor be fairly rough. This floor was first floated down and then when it had set up fairly well a real course wire brush was drawn cross wise of it. Herman Hall, Extension Agricultural Engineer from the College and Fred Venrick, of the Portland Cement Association assisted with the demonstration.

Better stop by and see it some day.

B-F-N
Some time was taken while Engineer Hall was here to look at special problems at Olen Monsees, D. S. Lamm and Son, and Van Dyne-Peters.

B-F-N
Two terrace outlets were staked recently on the Lamm farm with the assistance of Don Lamm, Jr. and the contractor, Maurice Fischer.

B-F-N
Several folks are asking about alfalfa varieties. Extension Bulletin 492 entitled "Alfalfa in Missouri," states that "good seed of any strain of common alfalfa originating in any part of the middle-west, north central or northwest, may prove satisfactory in Missouri."

Some new varieties, resistant to Bacterial Wilt, are now available but Missouri so far has had little trouble with wilt.

Community News from Beaman

Mrs. George Adams

John Brown, who is in the Air Corps and stationed at Bolling Field, Washington, D. C. is home on a two week furlough. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown of Sedalia and the grandson of Mrs. E. B. Brown of Beaman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rollins and children, Ron and Greg, of Kansas City are spending a three week vacation here at the home of Mrs. Rollins' parents, Judge and Mrs. E. L. Birdsong and family.

Two days last week Mr. and Mrs. Gene Holman and family of Preston.

J. R. Blacklock was injured Tuesday afternoon as he walked past one of his horses. The animal kicked him in the abdomen and both legs. His condition is satisfactory.

A birthday dinner was held at the Blacklock home honoring Mrs. J. R. Blacklock on Sunday afternoon, August 5th. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Murphree, Linda and Carol; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blacklock, Larry and Bobbie; Mr. and Mrs. Don Shelby all of Sedalia; Glenda and Don Blacklock of the home. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Thursday evening Mrs. I. J. Rhoads and daughter Norma and Mrs. J. R. Blacklock and daughter Glenda attended a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Murphree in Sedalia. Others present were: Mrs. Page, Mrs. Evelyn Shelby, Miss Patty Spaitis and Miss Jeanne Jackson. Refreshments of cookies and punch were served.

Miss Evelyn Hansen of Kansas City is convalescing following surgery at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen and son, Leslie.

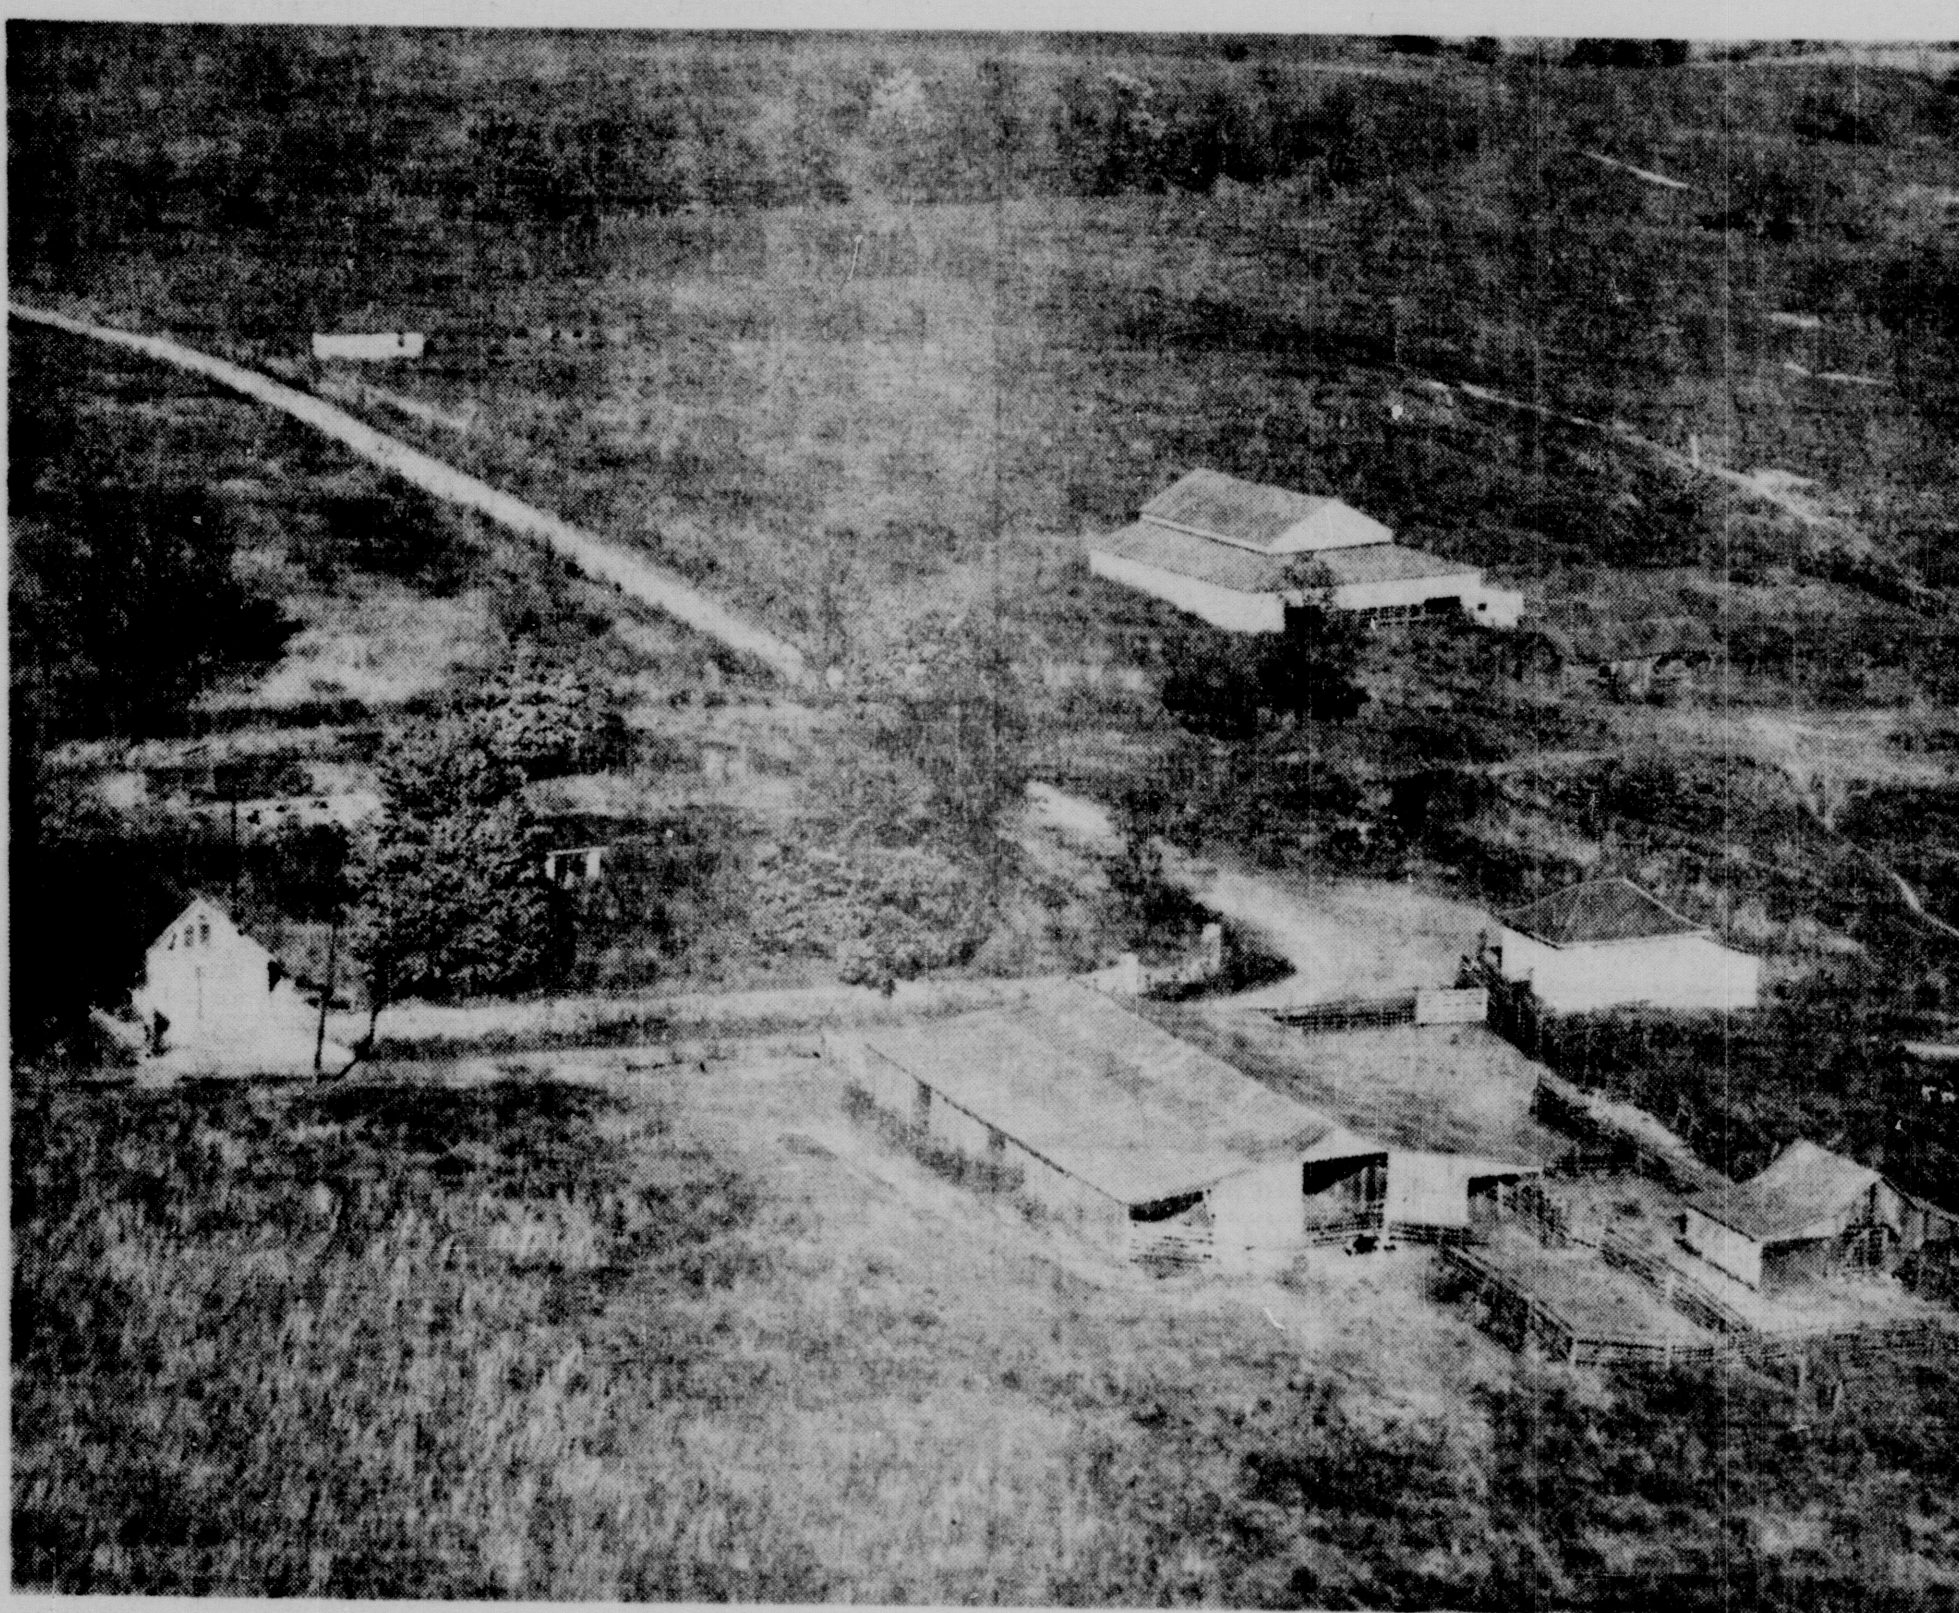

Harold Glenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Glenn, who was formerly stationed in California and left that state on July 13th, is now somewhere in Korea.

Mrs. Martha Franken is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Summers and family, where she has been staying the past two weeks.

Tommy Dean has been the name bestowed on the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Summers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Halbrook and sons Stevie and Gerry of Albuquerque, New Mexico, are here for an extended visit at the home of Mrs. Halbrook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McLaughlin. They

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Is this your farm?

Most of the readers of the Democrat-Capital have been following this series of the weekly Mystery Farm pictures with considerable interest.

The pictures that appear in this space in Monday's Democrat and Tuesday morning's Capital were taken sometime ago by an aerial photographer. The pictures were not shot with the knowledge of whose farm it was. It was a random job, a picture here and a picture there.

with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wiseman.

The following families gathered at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Flippin, Sunday to help her celebrate her 80th birthday: Jess Butts, Roy Flippin, Oscar Hix, Elgie Flippin, Jess Thomas, Claude Buell, F. G. Taylor, Everett Ratmer, Chester Raymer, T. L. Flippin, C. C. Waisner, Johnny Miller, Aubrey Gardner, Howard Hibdon, Claude Hibdon, Laura Gunn, Clyde Butts and Flael Butts all of Climax Springs.

Others were: Charles Lee Harpham, Topeka, Kas.; Paul Flippin, Earl Beyer, Elsworth Flippin and Robert Flippin of Windsor; Jim Kindle, Enoch Kindle, Ernest Butts, Roscoe Harpham, Glenn Harpham, S. W. Leibl and Junior Waisner of Edwards; Vernon Tucker, Cross Timbers; Ben Rapp, Wakita, Okla.; Raymond Park, Mary Lou Cade of Kansas City; and Alta Waisner, Lloyd Flippin and Arnold Hibdon.

First oil well in the United States, bored at Titusville, Pa., soon after the discovery of oil in 1859, was 69.5 feet in depth.

The Mystery Farm picture in the Democrat, August 13, and Capital the morning following shows the farm of Mr. and Mrs. L. Oliver Stahl, one mile south of Syracuse in Morgan county. It was purchased by them in 1943 from Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stahl and they moved to that location in the spring of 1944 from near Longwood in Pettis county where they resided seven years. Last year they added 70 adjoining acres to the original 140 they purchased. They are engaged in a diversified farm program and general livestock production in cooperation with the MA, program.

The product of the farm is principally corn, with oats and sweet clover also being grown. The land is terraced and limed. They have stock cattle and pure bred Hampshire hogs. A new machine shed and corn crib have been added since the picture was taken.

The farm picture appearing the week previous showed the farm of W. B. Gibson, four miles northwest of Buncheon. It consists of 200 acres and is utilized for diversified farming and the raising of hogs and cattle.

They have two daughters, Janice and Jerree.

Improvements on their farm includes a modernized house, two fish lakes, fences on contour and most of their land is terraced. A new grain bin with 2,000 bushels capacity is available when needed. Another house is on the south side of the farm which is rented.

The daughters, 9 and 11 are in 4-H work, and assist in the housework and cooking.

Science Discovers Amazing Way to CURB ARTHRITIC, RHEUMATIC Suffering---At Amazing Low Cost!

At last, medical science has discovered an amazing new and better formula to stop the torturing pains of arthritis and rheumatism. Unlike so many remedies which promise only temporary relief and cost $3 to $5... even $10, this sensational formula, which has actually produced long-lasting results in countless severe cases, is offered to you under the name of PRUVO for only $1.50. Important to you is the fact that PRUVO is not just another pain relief. Yes, PRUVO stops pain amazingly fast, but in addition, it goes to work in the red, swollen, inflamed joints where arthritis does its worst crippling damage. Acting on your sore, stiffening joints, PRUVO often REDUCES THE SWELLING... RELAXES THE JOINTS... and allows you to move, work and play again without crying out at every step. Hailed by leading authorities after vast laboratory and clinical tests, PRUVO is safe, non-habit forming and easy-to-take in convenient tablet form. You can get all the wonderful benefits of amazing PRUVO Therapy right in your own home. To be sure that every rheumatic and arthritis sufferer in America who needs PRUVO will have the blessings of its amazing anti-arthritis action, the PRUVO manufacturers offer it at a price everyone can easily afford, and make you this 100% GUARANTEE: PRUVO must give you the fastest results, and the greatest, long-lasting improvement you have ever known, or it costs you not a penny! So, no matter what you have spent on high priced tonics or drugs, no matter what you have tried or how long you have suffered PRUVO, like thousands of others, may be enjoying a happy, active life again... after just a few days... thanks to PRUVO. Get PRUVO at Main Street Cut Rate Drugs only $1.50!
